Passage 1

My grandma (Ann)

My grandma owned a lot of land near a train station. She was very rich before she died, she said to me: "I will leave you my record collection. It is very valuable." After the funeral a big black box came in the post. There was a strange cross on the box, and a sign on the lid that looked like a fly. I opened the box. A white rock fell out onto the carpet. My mom made me put the box in the yard. The box was full of rock samples. What had happened to the record collection?

Passage 2

My Grandpa Ben

My grandpa was a train driver. One day he made a plane without an engine. It looked like a bike with wings. He wanted to set a record for man-powered flight. The first time he tried to fly the plane, the back wheel hit a rock. The plane broke. It took him six weeks to mend it in his yard. He went in for a race. He had to cross the sea. Just as he was nearing the wining post, he got cramp. His plane fell from the sky. He could not find a safe place to land. He was killed. He left me his plane in his will.
